

WELCOME PLANS
SHAPING UP FOR KNIGHTS TEMPLAR

Big Delegation From California
Will Be Met at Hilo and Escorted Here

His "glad hand" already warming for the hearty welcoming grasp which he will extend to the Knights Templar of California who are coming on the Great Northern, "Sunny Jim" McCandless leaves tonight in the Wilhelmina for Hilo in company with S. S. Paxson, chairman of the local executive committee, as the advance guard of Honolulu's royal reception. Lester Petrie has already gone to the Big Island to start preparations there to receive the big crowd. The three local men will join hands in a brotherly escort from Hilo to Honolulu.

Judging by a statement of Mr. McCandless of events arranged for the visitors, there will be few idle moments and the sojourn in Honolulu will be one long chain of entertainment.

Mr. McCandless has personally purchased an entire section of Carnival seats, 91 tickets, good for all Carnival events, which will be turned over to the visitors.

When the Knights Templar march down the Great Northern gangplank Monday morning they will be in all the bright regalia of their order and with the receiving Templars, also in picturesque array, they will march to the Masonic Temple for a short reception, the ladies meanwhile going to the Country Club in machines. At noon the whole party will come together for luncheon.

One of the biggest affairs of the week will take place at afternoon, Monday. It is a Hawaiian luau for 200 to be given the visitors at the Arthur Wall place, Diamond Head road, beginning at 5 o'clock.

Dr. Alford Wall and Roscoe W. Perkins are in charge of the local entertainments and arrangements.

Tuesday will be open with plenty of time for the guests to catch their breath and look around at leisure, enjoying the Carnival period. McCandless plans to have a telephone installed on the Great Northern, which will be an appreciated feature of the many local courtesies to be extended by the Honolulu lodge men, as officially the Templars' headquarters will be on the ship and they will sleep there. Many, however, will be guests of local residents at their homes.

A trip around the island with a good old-fashioned basket social at L. L. McCandless' country home at Waikane is the program for Wednesday, and Thursday night a banquet for 200 will be tendered the visitors in the gold room of the Young hotel at 8:30 o'clock. This will be given by the local Knights.

Sight-seeing to sugar mills, pineapple canneries and other interesting places near Honolulu will be in order Friday and Saturday.

Individual parties and entertainments for the smaller groups will abound all through the week, of course, and if anything that makes for the comfort, interest and amusement of the guests is overlooked, it won't be the fault of the Honolulu Templars.

Most of the visitors will be from the San Francisco Lodge, California Commandery No. 1. Several will come from Los Angeles. About 90 are expected, the majority of the visitors being Knights, many of them with ladies in the party.

FINE AND JAIL
SENTENCE GIVEN
DRUNKEN DRIVER

For being intoxicated while in charge of an automobile coast W. P. Blaise, a local chauffeur, $50 in police court this morning and besides he was sentenced to serve two days in jail.

W. R. Farrington, president of the local auto club, has taken up the matter with the county attorney's office as to whether a chauffeur found guilty of driving while drunk should be allowed to continue driving.

In fixing the penalty this morning Judge Monsarrat did not cancel the defendant's license to drive.

According to the testimony Blaise came down King street at a furious rate of speed on February 8, while under the influence of liquor, and ran into a tourist's car at the Houghtaling road corner.

PROGRAM WILL PLEASE DANCERS
AND ONLOOKERS AT OPENING BALL

James A. Dunbar, in charge of the Carnival ball of all nations at the Capitol grounds the opening night of the Carnival, February 14, has arranged an interesting program both for those of the public who dance and those who do not.

At 8 o'clock in the evening the merriment will begin. It is planned to send bands into different districts of the city to depart at 7:30 o'clock and to arrive at the Capitol grounds at 7:50. Upon their arrival the ball will begin. Mayor and Mrs. John C. Lane probably will lead the ball at 8 o'clock sharp.

Dances for the public will alternate with dances on the platform every 15 minutes. The platform will be 15 feet from the Palace steps and seven feet high. Upon it there will be various folk dances.

No charge will be made for beach-er seats, which will extend from the curve of the entrance road to King street. The public is urged to arrive early, so that the dances may start on time.

Plans of Mr. Dunbar call for an American fairy dance, a Hawaiian hula danced by three girls; a Japanese geisha dance by three girls; a Scotch dance, either the sword or the Highland fling; a Russian dance; an Irish number, arranged by A. H. Meyer; a Spanish dance and Korean and 19th-century dances.

There will be bands detailed to the dances of the citizens of Honolulu and their guests from the mainland. They will dance on the platform of the folk dancers. The arrangement of having the dances alternate, each 15 minutes will give an opportunity both to dance and see the numbers upon the platform.

DIRECTORS OF CHAMBER RECOMMEND MONDAY BE OBSERVED HALF HOLIDAY

Further steps looking to the making of Monday, the opening day of the Carnival, a half holiday among most of the business houses of Honolulu were taken yesterday afternoon. The board of directors of the Chamber of Commerce voted to recommend to the members of the chamber the observance of a half holiday on Monday afternoon, February 19.

The meeting of the board of directors of the Chamber of Commerce followed action taken earlier by the retail trades board of that organization, which voted to close retail stores and to ask other retail business houses, not members of the body, to take similar action. The action of the chamber is intended to bring in line for the closing movement establishments and offices outside of the retail trades as well as those of that branch.

POLICE DOCKET
NEARLY CLEARED

Today is Senator Charles F. Chillingworth's last day in the police court as a prosecuting attorney. Attorney William J. Sheldon, kamaaina resident, who was recently appointed by County Attorney A. M. Brown when Chillingworth resigned to devote his entire attention to duties in the senate, takes up his duties tomorrow.

For the last two weeks Chillingworth has been making a special effort to leave the police court calendar practically clear of continued cases, and in glancing over the book this morning it would be seen that he has been eminently successful. Due to the retiring attorney's efforts only about five untied cases will pass into Sheldon's hands.

Quietly but with determination Chillingworth has cleaned up the calendar. He has said little about it to anyone until today and then those who had not been aware of his work were surprised at the showing. Attorney Lorin Andrews, during the defense of a client, paid the prosecutor a compliment by saying he was amazed at the despatch Chillingworth had disposed of cases under existing conditions.

CONDITION OF JAMES
LYLE IS PRECARIOUS

Sad news reached J. Alexander Lyle, superintendent of the floating drydock, this morning in a wireless message from the mainland as to the condition of his father, James Lyle. The message said: "Father failing rapidly. Expect end at any time."

The ill health of his father was the occasion of Lyle's taking a trip to the mainland several months ago but he then found the old gentleman improved upon his arrival.

MARCH "MID-PACIFIC"
APPEARS AND PROVES TO BE STRONG NUMBER

The March number of the Mid-Pacific Magazine appears today and certainly keeps up the high standard set by this home publication for 1917.

The 16-page art section in two colors is devoted to scenes and buildings in and around Honolulu, giving visitors in the city views of local beauty spots which they may take away with them to keep them reminded of Hawaii.

Mrs. Jack London's "Log of the Shark" is more interesting than ever, this month's installment a complete story in itself, being entitled, "Taking Tall Chances," and judging from the account, they were "tall" indeed. W. B. Pierce, U. S. N., contributes an article on "The American Sailor in the Philippines," written in the quaint vernacular of the American seaman. "Whaling Days," by C. P. Merrill, is one of the feature articles, and is full of thrills.

Another local writer, Dr. E. S. Goodhue, continues his series of interesting sketches "Around Maui in Patches," and in the March number he tells of a trip to Haleakala, "Earth's Vastest Crater," which will appear in diorama form in the Pan-Pacific building on Bishop square in a few days.

"What is a Volcanologist?" is L. W. de Vis-Norton's contribution for the month, and perhaps is the most valuable article in the issue. It tells of the work of the little observatory on the brink of great Kilauea, its world importance, and the chances its scientists take.

Then there are other highly illustrated stories and articles from all around the Pacific, and altogether the Mid-Pacific for March is a worthwhile publication, both to the visitor and the resident.

DIORAMAS WILL BE SHOWN TO LUAU GUESTS
ON SATURDAY EVENING

Saturday evening, for the first time, the great dioramas depicting the "seven scenic wonders of Hawaii," will be thrown on exhibition to the guests at the Pan-Pacific luau in the new building on Bishop Square. Preparations are being made to seat 500 guests, and both wings at either end of the building will be used. The club is charging less per plate than is being paid the caterer, the cost to each guest being $1.00.

There will be short addresses from prominent men, there will be toasts to the success of the Carnival, and then the wonder dioramas in the long hall between the two wings of the building will have the lights switched on for the first time.

The Pan-Pacific phone number is 2989, and those who wish to be present may make reservation by calling that number or by calling in person at the Pan-Pacific rooms, above Castle & Cooke.
